

The Tribune.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

BY MAIL—IN ADVANCE—POSTAGE PREPAID.
Daily Edition, one year, $1.00.
Sunday Edition: Literary and Religious Double sheet, $1.50.
Single sheet, 50 cents.
Tri-Weekly, one year, $1.00.
Postage, 50 cents.
Part of a year, 25 cents.

WEEKLY EDITION, POSTPAID.

One copy, per year, $1.00.
One copy, per month, 50 cents.

Subscription copies sent free.
Give Post-Office address in full including State and County.

Remittances may be made either by draft, express, Post-Office order, or in registered letters, at our risk.

TERMS FOR CITY SUBSCRIBERS.

Daily, delivered, Sunday excepted, $1.00 per week.

Daily, delivered, Sunday excepted, $1.00 per week.

Address: THE TRIBUNE COMPANY.

Corner Madison and Dearborn-sts., Chicago, Ill.

Orders for the delivery of THE TRIBUNE at Evanson, Englewood, and Hyde Park left in the counting-room will receive prompt attention.

AMUSEMENTS.

Madison street, between State and Dearborn. Experiment of John T. Raymond. "There's Millions in It." Madame Don Stouffer, etc.; Meaux, Raymond, Leacock, etc.

Hooley's Theatre.

Randolph street, between Clark and LaSalle.
"Sardanapalus." Madame Banchet, Louisa, etc.; etc.; Meaux, Norca, Morris, etc.

New Chicago Theatre.

Clark street, opposite the House. Experiment of the Civilian Comedy Company. "How Women Love." Madame Hand, Bachelet, etc.; Meaux, Norca, Lake, etc.

Adelphi Theatre.

Meuse street, corner of Dearborn. Engagement of Robert's Panopticon Troop. "Humpty Dumpty."

Coliseum Novelty Theatre.

Clark street, opposite the Court-House. "Wild Bill, the King of the Bowies." etc.

SOCIETY MEETINGS.

SPENCER LODGE, No. 620, A. F. & A. M.— Special Committee on Education, 114½ W. Kinzie-st. Work on the M. M. degree. Visiting brethren cordially invited. By order of the W. M. W. K. T. C. S. Sec.

HOME LODGE, No. 308, A. F. & A. M.—Regular convention, 114½ W. Kinzie-st. Work on the M. M. degree. Visiting brethren cordially invited. By order of the W. M. W. K. T. C. S. Sec.

ORIENTAL LODGE, No. 33, A. F. & A. M.—Hall, 125 LaSalle-st. Special Communication this Friday, evening, at 7:30 o'clock, for instruction. By order of the W. M. W. K. T. C. S. Sec.

WAUBANSA LODGE, No. 103, A. F. & A. M.—
Meeting room, 103 W. Kinzie-st. Work on F. C. Degree.
Visitors cordially invited. J. C. HOWELL, Sec.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1877.

CHICAGO MARKET SUMMARY.

The Chicago produce markets were moderately active yesterday, and irregular. Meats were closed firm at $1.20 for October and $1.65 for January.
Lard closed steady, at $8.00 for October and $8.20 for January. Meats were steady, at $1.20 for October and $1.65 for January. The do for some time. Lake freighters quieted down a little, and the exchange for corn to Buffalo.
Whisky was lower, at $1.07 per gallon. Flour was quiet and firm.
Wheat closed firm, at $1.05 per bushel and $1.04 for November. Corn closed a shade firmer, at $44½ per bushel and $43½ for November. Oats closed firm at $1.20 for October and $1.40 for January.
Rye was firm, at $3.35. Barley closed a little lower, at $5.20 and 50¢ for October. Hops closed firm, at $4.75 and 25¢ for October. Cattle were firm, at $1.70 and 50¢. Sheep were firm, at $3.00 and 25¢.
There was inspection into stores in this city yesterday 142 carloads of wheat, 100 carloads of corn, 68 carloads of oats, 8 carloads of rye, 1 carload of barley. Total (462 cars), 304,000 bu. One hundred dollars in gold would buy $102.75 in greenbacks at the close.

Greenbacks in the New York Stock Exchange yesterday closed at 97½.

Rumor in Washington connects Judge C.
B. LAWRENCE, of Chicago, with the English mission.

A brief dispatch from Vienna announces that Kara is being vigorously bombarded by the Russian besieging force, and that a portion of the city is in flames.

Mrs. MACMILLAN's familiarity with the Queen's English was called into requisition yesterday on the occasion of the first meeting between her husband and Gen. GRANT.
She acted as interpreter.

From the official report by the Patent Office of the fire which destroyed two wings of the Model-Room it appears that the total loss was $1,500,000, including the amounts necessary to restore models, drawings, etc., and to put the building in a fire-proof condition.

The courting of a frantic steer through the crowded avenues of New York City, resembling like the 1st Duke of Beaufort, and "tossing" aloft or trampling down every human obstacle with terrific ease, is detailed in our dispatches. The history of the metropolis is said to furnish nothing more extraordinary in character.

It is said the workingmen of New Jersey, who poll about 30,000 votes, have a rod in pique for Gen. McCLELLAN which they will use on election day for his castigation and defeat. They remember that when in charge of the New York Dock Department McCLEL-LAN made heavy reductions in the pay of laborers, but carefully omitted any cutting-down of his own enormous salary.

A criminal trial, the features of which are more than usually striking, is now proceeding at Lemars, Ia. A mother, struggling in a sea of trouble, administered a dose of poison to her child, and then swallowed a draught of the noxious drug herself. The child died, but the fatal effects of friends brought the mother back to death in life, and she is now before the bar of justice charged with murder.

Father Cawc, editor of the Civitas Catolica, and as orator and writer regarded as one of the foremost members of the Order of Jesuits, has by command of the Pope, been expelled from the General of the Order. His offense consisted in holding and expressing the belief that the restoration of the temporal power was not necessary to the well-being of the Church. He is said to intend the publication of a complete account of his differences with the Vatican, dating from 1871.

The removal of the heretofore stubbornlyinclined savages from the Red Cloud Agency to the Missouri River country is now in course of execution, and everything is progressing harmoniously. In fact, the Indians are said to be rather pleased than otherwise as they near their new home. Even these hardy sons of the plains have become tired of roughing it in the winter season, and the certain prospect of healthy beans of Widow and breakfast bacon à la fine, has given their new dwelling-place an attraction second only to a successful scalp hunt.

Having first bought out and then sold out, the Workingmen's Industrial party is in a furious frame of mind. The sincere and conscientious members of the organization perceive that the Democrats have used it as a convenience and then ruthlessly smashed it. These men were not bought, but they were sold, and they now refuse to be delivered. They will repudiate both the ticket, and cast their strength for the best nomine,—which, it is needless to remark, will be found on the Republican ballot. The Democratic managers have overreached themselves in their betrayal of the Workingmen, as they will find to their sorrow when the returns come in on the evening of Nov. 6.

Gen. Gourko, the dashing cavalry officer who penetrated the Balkan line and created a panic in Constantinople, has been afforded an opportunity to distinguish himself in connection with the operations about Plevna.
He turned up unexpectedly to the enemy on the Sofia road, and after a fight of ten hours captured a strong position, and with it secured a foothold which will seriously interfere with the provisioning of Plevna. Among his prisoners were Achmet Ewaz Pasha and his Chief-of-Staff, a large number of officers, 3,000 infantry, an entire regiment of cavalry, four cannon, and a quantity of rifles and ammunition.

Paris journals are chiefly engaged at present in the difficult task of discovering the plans of their political adversaries. Thus the recent utterances of the Soleil, Orleanist organ, are interpreted as an inclination to bring forward the Duke D'Almaire as a candidate for the Presidency, vice MacMahon, to be disposed of in some way not yet decided upon. One remarkable feature of the second election campaign is the fact that GAMMELLA has thus far entirely ignored the existence of President MacMahon, never so much as referring to him even in the most distant mention.

A large saving has been effected by Attorney-General DEVEN in the expense of transporting and feeding convicts sentenced in the District of Columbia. Ever since the Washington Penitentiary was torn down during the War, in order to admit of an enlargement of the Arsenal grounds, prisoners have been transported to the New York Penitentiary at Albany at a cost of $50 each, and dined at a cost of 25 cents each per day. Judge DEVEN has just contracted with the Maryland Penitentiary at Baltimore to keep the convicts at 18 cents per day, while the cost of transportation is reduced to $3 each. The United States Government is more fortunate in this respect than Cook County, which pays 35 cents a day for the deting of prisoners in a jail of its own maintenance, and the officers and employees of which are paid out of the County Treasury.
But then the United States Government is not managed by a King—which explains the difference.

Still another version of the GRANT-SUMMER quarrel is given to the world. Maj. BEN: PEIRCE POONK, the veteran newspaper correspondent, who was a guest at Mr. SUMMER's house at the time of the misunderstanding, and heard the conversation which occurred on the occasion of the President's visit to Mr. SUMMER, contributes his recollection of what then occurred. The Senator was in a bad humor on account of the removal of a personal friend, ex-Congressman ASHLEY, of Ohio, as Governor of Montana, and at this inopportune time the President called. The letter is said to have denounced ASHLEY in heated and contemptuous terms, and when, in the course of the talk, the San Domingo matter came to be discussed, SUMMER rebuked him for his conduct with that scheme. Maj.
POONK's understanding of what ensued was that SUMMER, the President wanted to elicit his services in defense of BARBOCK's misapplication of the Secret-Service fund, whereas Gen. GRANT only desired to obtain the Senator's support of the treaty for the acquisition of the Dominican Republic.
It was this that caused the quarrel.

The legal aspect of the case is very clear and simple. The Constitution empowers the Government to remove the Park Commissioners for "incompetency, neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office," as in case of all other officers whom he may appoint under the law. In removing Messrs. LIRE, HOLDEN, MILLARD, and MURK, he stated expressly that he did so because these persons "do not possess the kind of qualifications that are necessary to the discharge of the duties of said office" or of Park Commissioner. This is an unequivocal allegation of incompetency. It is difficult to believe that Judge MOONZ has granted the injunction upon the quibble that the Governor did not use the word "incompetency," because that would be trifling, and Judge MOONZ would scarcely enable a lot of tenacious ejected officeholders to cling to places, and deprive their lawful successors of their rights, on a mere verbal sophism. But it is almost as difficult to concede that Judge MOONZ believes these off-hand officeholders may claim a trial before "a jury of their peers" and thus be adjudged incompetent, before the Governor can remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be adjudged incompetent before the Governor can remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can
remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable
construction of the appointing and removing power vested in the Governor by the Constitution. Were such the purpose of
the Constitution, it would be an absurdity
to suppose that the Governor could not be
adjudged incompetent before the Governor can remove them. This would be a novel and remarkable

THE CITY.

GENERAL NEWS.

Maj.-Gen. G. O. Howard is a guest at the Bazaar.

Dr. A. Reeves Jackson and wife returned Tuesday from a month's journey in California.

Charles Gaynor, the dramatist and author, is in town, and stopping at the Grand Pacific Hotel.

The Treasurer's receipts yesterday were $802 from the Comptroller and $1,739 from the Water Department.

The Sheriff's Department yesterday condemned twenty carcasses of beef at O'Malley's slaughter-house. The animals were Texas bulls, emaciated and diseased.

Coroner Ditschitz yesterday held an inquest upon Thomas White, 14 months old, who ate some concentrated lime while on a visit with his parents to No. 775 State street.

In the County Court yesterday Carl Minchow, Catherine Say, J. W. Squire, and James Lovell, Jr., were admitted into the W. H. Lovell firm, the same firm in which a son of good character.

Miss Densophil, a conductor on the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne Railroad, while fooling with a revolver yesterday afternoon, shot himself in the right knee. Dr. J. S. Mead extracted the bullet.

The fair for the benefit of the Alexian Brothers' Hospital, in which the inhabitants of Chicago took so much interest, is fast approaching to an end, will close in the North Side Turner Hall Saturday.

Late Wednesday night Jacob Brown, a laborer in the North Chicago Rolling Mills, accidentally fell against the hot rolls, and was severely burned about the arms, left leg, and back. He resides at No. 136 East North avenue.

The temperature yesterday, as observed by Manase, optician, 88 Madison street (Taubus Building), was at 8 a.m., 52 degrees; 10 a.m., 54; 12 m., 57; 2 p.m., 56; 4 p.m., 56; 6 p.m., 56; 8 p.m., 56; 10 p.m., 56.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Ann Hagerly, while in a drunken condition at No. 167 West Lake street, attempted to commit suicide by jumping from the roof of the house. Dr. J. J. McNeilson pumped her out, and she became very dangerous.

Joseph B. Campbell, driver of a baker's wagon, was badly maimed from his bounding horse, 72 South Madison street, since 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. As he had no considerable money on his person it is feared that he has been fully dealt with.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.

The offices around the County Building were all closed yesterday, and the Architectural Record was at the Democratic Convention as delegates and most of the employees of the other offices were looking on. Most of the Commissioners and assistants in the interest of the other offices held in the effort to perpetuate the "King"; and the County Attorney, the father of the mob, was with them in the effort to keep the "King" in the trials. It was a matter of life and death with him.

Information was received at Army Headquarters yesterday that the Architectural Record was to be held in existence by the Standard and Architectural Record from Red Cloud Agency. The change to the new Missouri River Agency was commenced yesterday, when the Commissioners and assistants were at home. Spotted Tail's band will commence their pilgrimage Saturday. That no trouble has been caused by the Indians in the country is a disposition shown on the part of the savages to do any "kicking." Gen. Crook anticipates that the removal will quickly made.

After a day's rest the Indians (100 men) arrived at the St. Pauls. They were exceedingly ill, and many of the men were dead.

Several hundred Indians were at the St. Pauls, and many of the men were dead. The condition of the camp was very poor, and the condition of the men was very bad.

The Nov. 1 number of the Annual will contain an interesting letter from Bishop Greig—the first communication with reference to the papers he has been writing to the Standard and the Architectural Record on the subject of the Architectural Record and the reception of the Architectural Record in England.

The Grand Jury sat yesterday but at a quiet time yesterday morning, and upon adjourning returned two indictments. Jacob Gross was among the witnesses examined with regard to the papers he is in the office before the Standard and Architectural Record.